

OWA to Hold Professional Workshops in N.Y., Indianapolis

October 22, 2007 9:13 AM

LAS VEGAS--The Optical Women's Association (OWA) is planning two additional Professional Optical Women's Workshops (POWW).

"How to Transform Your Communication Skills for More Sales, Profit and Satisfaction" will be held on Thursday, Nov. 1 in New York City from 6:00 p.m. to 9:00 p.m. Presented by Ariel and Shya Kane, award-winning authors and internationally acclaimed seminar leaders and business consultants, the event will be held at the Corinne McCormack Showroom at 7 West 36th Street in Manhattan; a light buffet dinner will be served. Admission is complimentary for OWA members and $35 for non-members. All attendees will receive a complimentary copy of Working on Yourself Doesn't Work, a book authored by the Kanes.

In addition, at the upcoming Optical Laboratories Association meeting in Indianapolis, OWA will present an educational seminar by Mel Jurado, M.S, MA and PhD, focusing on skills to create an environment of success. The session is complimentary admission on Thursday, Nov. 15, from 9:20 a.m. to 10:20 a.m. at the Indiana Convention Center.

Further information on the OWA is available from the group's Web site at www.opticalwomen.com.
